EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- AI capex conviction lifted the S&P 500 ▲1.21% WoW to 7,743.41 even as the US 10-year touched 5.2297%, its highest since 2007, and Brent swung between $98.37 and $107.36 on Iran headlines.
- The NGX ASI rose ▲0.92% WoW to 252,113.41, lifting YTD return to ▲62.01% and capitalisation to ₦163.66tn on ₦240.82bn traded, while Kenya led Africa at ▲4.15% and Egypt fell ▼3.10%.
- Oil & Gas led at ▲3.49% on Seplat's ▲7.33% move to a record ₦16,000, against Insurance at ▼0.52%, with Critical Minerals Financing ▲59.80% the top gainer and Haldane McCall ▼16.67% the worst.
- The CBN cut the MPR 350bp to 23.0% against August CPI of 15.39%, while the naira firmed ▲0.42% to ₦1,325.32/$ and the FGN 10-year yield fell 82bp to 15.97%.
- Foreign participation has yet to recover after FTSE reclassification, with August foreign share of turnover at 4.89% and a ₦9.09bn net outflow, while Access's 30 September results deadline and Dangote's 13 October offer close set near-term direction.

Market Outlook — Coming Week

- The initial price response to FTSE reclassification has been modest, and its impact on foreign flows cannot yet be assessed. The ASI added ▲0.92% in the week FTSE Russell inclusion took effect, after ▲2.78% the week before. Available July to August flow data indicate that the rally has not yet been accompanied by a meaningful increase in foreign participation: foreign share of turnover fell to 4.89% in August and the FPI net outflow was ₦9.09bn. The narrower outflow came from lighter selling, not new buying, which fell 36.4%. The September FPI report will be the first read on post-inclusion demand. The coming week is likely to be four sessions, with 1 October a public holiday.
- Breadth widened and volume rose far faster than value. The advance/decline ratio rose to 1.91x from 1.63x and volume rose ▲44.3% to 4.69bn shares, yet value traded rose only ▲1.2% to ₦240.82bn. Lower-priced counters carried much of the volume: Critical Minerals Financing's four consecutive limit-up sessions and Fortis Global's 866.21m-share block point to rising speculative appetite. At 0.77% below the 254,067.42 52-week high, a breakout would likely require banking leadership to return after the Banking index slipped ▼0.29% on Thursday and ▼0.69% on Friday.
- The valuation gap narrowed primarily because bond yields fell, while the equity earnings yield also declined as multiples expanded. At 19.58x excluding constituents above 100x, the covered Main Board offers a 5.11% earnings yield against a 15.97% FGN 10-year, a 10.86pp gap, down from 11.48pp a week ago. On a simple earnings-yield comparison equities remain at a substantial disadvantage, which raises the importance of earnings growth and further bond-yield compression for continued rerating. Access Holdings' H1 audited results, due by 30 September, will provide the first Tier 1 read on NIMs and capital after the SDF cut to 20%.
- Three risks could interrupt the trend: liquidity, the Fed and inflation.

EQUINOX FRONTIER MARKETS WEEKLY

Equinox Research · Institutional Markets Intelligence · Confidential

Week of: 25 September 2026

- Liquidity: the ₦2.15tn Dangote Refinery offer, which closes 13 October, could compete for domestic liquidity that has supported the recent equity rally.
- The Fed: US payrolls on 2 October could shift market-implied odds of an October Fed hike, which were above 66% as of 25 September (CME FedWatch). A stronger dollar would pressure frontier flows and naira returns.
- Inflation: Brent at $104.31, petrol near ₦1,400/litre and the MPC's own warning on food and core prices mean further rate reductions are not assured.

Global Markets Commentary

- AI capex conviction overrode a hawkish macro backdrop: S&P 500 ▲1.21% WoW to 7,743.41, 0.9% below its 52wk high, after Monday's chip rally (Arm ▲17.16%, Intel ▲12.14%). Asian tech followed, KOSPI ▲2.71% and Nikkei ▲2.07%.
- Rates are the binding constraint. US 10Y touched 5.2297%, highest since 2007, and 30Y hit 5.5252%, highest since 2004, while market-implied odds of another Fed hike in October were above 66% as of 25 September (CME FedWatch).
- Iran headlines drove a $9 Brent range, $98.37 to $107.36, before a $104.31 close on reports of a phased Hormuz reopening framework. Elevated energy and yields pushed gold to $4,291.30, its fourth weekly loss in five.
- Europe and China lagged the risk rally: STOXX 600 ▲0.50% WoW but ▼1.91% MoM; Shanghai Comp. ▼0.60% WoW is the only tracked index negative YTD (▼3.36%), 3.9% above its 52wk low.

FX tables are quoted on the currency-pair convention: a negative figure denotes a fall in USD/NGN, that is, naira appreciation. Narrative commentary states moves on the naira and is signed accordingly.

Frontier Africa Commentary

- East Africa led and North Africa lagged: Kenya's NSE All Share ▲4.15% WoW to 248.51, while Egypt's EGX 30 ▼3.10% to 53,776.69 despite a firmer pound (USD/EGP ▼0.72%).
- Nigeria remains the region's YTD standout: NGX ASI ▲0.92% WoW to 252,113.41, ▲62.01% YTD, market cap ₦163.66tn. The naira firmed 0.42% WoW to ₦1,325.32/$ (USD/NGN ▼8.38% YTD), with the parallel rate at ₦1,374.00, a 3.7% premium.

Market Snapshot Commentary

- The NGX ASI ▲0.92% WoW to 252,113.41, a second consecutive weekly gain but a deceleration from the prior week's ▲2.78%. The YTD return widened 1.48pp to ▲62.01%, while market capitalisation rose ₦1.50tn to ₦163.66tn. The advance was led by Seplat (▲7.33%), GTCO (▲5.38%), Zenith (▲5.06%), Lafarge Africa (▲4.4%) and Dangote Cement (▲1.59%).
- Breadth improved. Advancers rose to 61 from 52 while decliners were unchanged at 32, lifting the advance/decline ratio to 1.91x from 1.63x; 53 counters closed unchanged. Volume ▲44.3% WoW to 4.69bn shares while deals ▼9.3% to 261,198, lifting average deal size to 17,952 shares from 11,284. Value traded rose ▲1.2% to ₦240.82bn from ₦237.99bn.
- The index closed 0.77% below its 52wk high of 254,067.42, a gap smaller than the prior week's advance, and 78.8% above its 52wk low of 141,020.95.

Market Snapshot Commentary

- Oil & Gas led the sector board, ▲ 3.49% WoW to 6,243.84 (▲ 133.83% YTD), after Seplat's 7.33% Thursday surge to a record ₦16,000.00 lifted the index 3.95% in one session. TotalEnergies Marketing ▼ 10% to ₦518.40 on Friday trimmed 0.13% from the gauge, despite a Q2 return to profit (PAT ₦3.78bn). Insurance was the only decliner, ▼ 0.52% to 1,093.66 and ▼ 8.05% YTD, after Tuesday's 1.94% drop led by Mutual Benefits (▼ 8.38%) and AXA Mansard (▼ 6.67%). Banking ranked second, ▲ 3.06% to 2,721.83, on concentrated Tier 1 and Tier 2 demand after the CBN's 350bp rate cut on 22 Sep, with Fidelity topping volume on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. Banks faded late, ▼ 0.29% Thursday and ▼ 0.69% Friday; whether that demand resumes into Q3 reporting season is the rotation signal to watch next week.

Market Movers Commentary

- Large caps tracked rather than led the market: NGX 30 ▲0.88% WoW vs ASI ▲0.92%, as bank gains offset MTN weakness and a static Airtel Africa (flat at ₦6,300.00, ₦23.68tn market cap). Tier 1 banks drove the segment: GTCO ▲5.38% to ₦137.00 and Zenith ▲5.06% to ₦134.90. At 10.14x P/E, Zenith remains the cheapest watch list bank versus GTCO at 19.29x and First HoldCo at 67.26x. MTN Nigeria ▼3.03% to ₦863.00 was the main drag, while Seplat ▲7.33% to a record ₦16,000.10 trades at 75.22x.

Market Movers Commentary

Airtel Africa held ₦23.68tn, unchanged at ₦6,300.00 for a fifth consecutive week, and remains the most capitalised stock on the NGX by a ₦5.56tn margin. MTN Nigeria kept second place but its lead over Dangote Cement narrowed to ₦0.12tn from ₦0.97tn: MTN ▼3.03% to ₦863.00 for ₦18.12tn, Dangote Cement ▲1.59% to ₦1,066.70 for ₦18.00tn. Capitalisations are the official NGX market capitalisations published in the Current Equity P/E Ratios file of 25 Sep 2026.

- Telecoms (blue): Airtel Africa ₦23.68tn at ₦6,300.00 (▲ +178% YTD), unchanged on the week; MTNN ₦18.12tn at ₦863.00 (▲ +69% YTD, ▼ 3.03% WoW), one of two large cap decliners alongside First HoldCo.
- Industrial (green): Dangote Cement ₦18.00tn at ₦1,066.70 (▲ +75% YTD, ▲ +1.59% WoW), in line with an Industrial Goods Index ▲ 1.56% WoW.
- Consumer goods (pink): BUA Foods ₦13.69tn at ₦760.60, unchanged for a sixth week and still the only large cap negative YTD at ▼ 5%. Nestlé ₦2.30tn, flat at ₦2,900.00 (70.2x), against a Consumer Goods Index ▲ 0.62%.
- Oil and gas (amber): Seplat ₦9.60tn at a record ₦16,000.10 (▲ +7.33% WoW, ▲ +185% YTD, 75.2x), leading an Oil & Gas Index ▲ 3.49%.
- Banking (purple): First HoldCo ₦7.12tn at ₦156.60 (▼ 2.13% WoW after Friday's ▼ 5.09%, ▲ +221% YTD, 67.3x); Zenith ₦5.54tn at ₦134.90 (▲ +5.06%, 10.1x); GTCO ₦5.01tn at ₦137.00 (▲ +5.38%, 19.3x); Access ₦1.72tn at ₦31.55 (▲ +8.23%, 11.2x).

Leadership narrowed against last week. Five of the ten names rose, three were flat and two fell, against eight risers and no decliners a week ago. Aggregate capitalisation across the ten stood at ₦104.77tn, ▲ ₦0.87tn or ▲ 0.83% WoW, in line with the ASI ▲ 0.92%. Banks carried the gain: GTCO and Zenith added ₦0.53tn between them, while First HoldCo gave back part of the prior week's ▲ 17.65% rebound. The valuation

Macro Commentary

- The naira firmed 0.42% WoW to ₦1,325.32/$ in the official window, while the parallel rate eased 1.15% to ₦1,374.00. That narrowed the official/parallel spread to ₦48.68 (3.7%) from ₦59.05. Cross rates fell faster: GBP/NGN ▼1.44% to ₦1,752.04 and EUR/NGN ▼1.21% to ₦1,509.67. The naira held its gains through a 350bp rate cut, but lower yields shrink the carry cushion that has underpinned portfolio inflows.
- The CBN cut the MPR 350bp to 23.0% at MPC 307 (21 to 22 Sep), its first move since February and the largest cut since 2006. The Committee also reset the corridor to +50/-300bp (SLF 23.5%, SDF 20.0%) and held CRR at 45%. The MPC cited inflation moderating for a third consecutive month to 15.39% in August, down from 15.43%, which leaves a real policy rate of about 7.6%. Bonds priced the move quickly: the FGN 10Y yield fell 82bp to 15.97%, from the 16.79% clearing rate at the 14 Sep auction.
- Brent closed at $104.31/bbl, ▲0.42% WoW, after a $98.37 to $107.36 range on Iran headlines. Bonny Light traded at $119.38 on 23 Sep, a $15.95 premium to Brent that day. Gross reserves stood at $54.83bn on 23 Sep, after reaching a reported $55.25bn on 18 Sep. Gold ▼1.96% to $4,291.30/oz as higher US yields weighed on bullion.
- Events to watch next week: Access Holdings H1 2026 audited results deadline (30 Sep); Independence Day public holiday (1 Oct); US September nonfarm payrolls, relevant to market-implied odds of an October Fed hike (2 Oct).

Source: NGX Current Equity P/E Ratios files of 25 Sep 2026 and 18 Sep 2026. Methodology note: the ratio NGX publishes as the Main Board Market Total (38.63 on 25 Sep 2026) is the sum, across constituents, of market capitalisation divided by total market capitalisation on all boards, multiplied by that constituent's P/E. On 25 Sep 2026 the implied denominator is approximately ₦167.93tn against a Main Board capitalisation of ₦95.02tn, and only ₦33.57tn of Main Board capitalisation carries a published P/E. The ₦167.93tn reconciles to the ₦163.66tn equity market capitalisation reported for 25 Sep plus the ₦3.64tn debt board and ₦0.64tn mutual fund board, so the NGX denominator spans every board, not equities only. The published figure is therefore a coverage-limited weighted contribution, not a cap-weighted market P/E, and is retained here only for continuity with prior issues. Equinox recomputes a covered Main Board cap-weighted trailing P/E as total covered capitalisation divided by total covered earnings, where earnings are derived as capitalisation divided by the published P/E. Coverage on 25 Sep 2026 is 78 of 125 Main Board lines (126 on 18 Sep; STACO Insurance was delisted effective 21 Sep). Sector figures are equal-weighted trailing P/E across constituents reporting usable data, excluding any constituent above 100x. Banking covers 9 of 11 bank and bank-holdco lines across the Main, Premium and Non-Interest boards, excluding Wema at 775.6x and Jaiz at 276.8x. Consumer Goods covers 7 of 13 Main Board lines, the same seven as on 18 Sep, so the move is a re-rating rather than a composition change. Oil & Gas covers all 6 lines across the Main and Premium boards: TotalEnergies at 95.3x re-enters below the 100x screen after its ▼10% Friday fall, which lifts the average; excluding it, the 18 Sep basis is 43.58x (+2.22). Market Dividend Yield is unchanged from 14 Aug 2026 and is flagged as carried forward, not a fresh observation.

Valuation Commentary

- Banking at 23.03x sits well below the 29.68x covered Main Board cap-weighted trailing P/E, and the sector's internal spread is wider than the gap to the market: Zenith at 10.14x, Access at 11.21x and GTCO at 19.29x against First HoldCo at 67.26x. The dispersion narrowed to 6.6x from 7.1x (First HoldCo vs Zenith) on price alone, with trailing earnings unchanged: First HoldCo ▼2.1% WoW while Zenith rose. GTCO is the largest single contributor to the covered Main Board figure at ₦5.01tn of capitalisation.

EQUINOX FRONTIER MARKETS WEEKLY

Equinox Research · Institutional Markets Intelligence · Confidential

Week of: 25 September 2026

- Seplat's trailing multiple rose to 75.22x from 70.09x, a move fully explained by its 7.33% price gain, and leaves limited support from current earnings. Nestlé at 70.21x carries a comparable multiple on a domestic consumer earnings base less exposed to crude. The Oil & Gas average jumps to 52.19x as TotalEnergies (95.25x) re-enters the screen; like-for-like the sector is 43.58x. Dangote Cement at 1,696.10x and BUA Foods, which carries no published P/E, both remain excluded as not economically meaningful.
- Foreign participation weakened again in August. Buying fell to ₦26.47bn against ₦35.56bn of selling, a net outflow of ₦9.09bn, and foreign share of turnover slipped to 4.89% from 5.60% as total transactions fell 46.38% to ₦1.27tn. The narrower net outflow reflects lighter selling (▼60.9%), not renewed buying (▼36.4%). Domestic institutions drove the slowdown, ▼60.39% to ₦654.61bn. September data will provide the first read on whether the 21 Sep FTSE reclassification changes the trend.

SECTION 9 | INVESTMENT THEME

Theme: The recent rally appears increasingly influenced by domestic liquidity, lower market yields and event-driven positioning, while foreign participation has yet to recover

| OBSERVATION | The NGX ASI is +62.01% YTD in naira terms and about +76.8% in dollar terms, as USD/NGN has fallen 8.38% YTD to ₦1,325.32. Foreign participation is moving the other way. Foreign share of turnover fell to 4.89% in August from 5.60% in July, and to 10.23% YTD against 21.01% in the same period of 2025. August FPI buying of ₦26.47bn against ₦35.56bn of selling left a ₦9.09bn net outflow. September flow data, the first to cover the period after the 21 Sep reclassification, are not yet published.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| DRIVER      | Available data point to domestic liquidity and lower market yields as the main supports. Domestic institutions traded ₦1.65tn in July. The CBN then cut the MPR 350bp to 23.0% and the SDF to 20.0%, and the FGN 10Y yield fell 82bp to 15.97%, leaving a real policy rate of about 7.6% against 15.39% August CPI. External buffers support the naira: reserves reached a reported $55.25bn on 18 Sep, an 18-year high, before standing at $54.83bn on 23 Sep, and the Q2 current-account surplus rose 67.9% to $7.54bn. Foreign activity remains subdued: the narrower August outflow came from selling falling 60.9%, while buying also fell 36.4%.                                                                                                                   |
| IMPLICATION | On a simple earnings-yield comparison, equities remain at a substantial yield disadvantage to the FGN 10-year bond. The covered Main Board trades at 29.68x (19.58x excluding constituents above 100x), an earnings yield of 3.4% to 5.1% against a 15.97% FGN 10Y. Further upside therefore needs either more yield compression or earnings delivery. Low-multiple Tier 1 banks offer the clearest combination of rate sensitivity and relatively low headline P/E: Zenith at 10.14x, Access at 11.21x and UBA at 11.17x, against a 23.03x sector average, although lower rates reduce funding costs and asset yields alike, so the NIM impact will vary by bank. For foreign investors, the flow impact of FTSE inclusion remains to be demonstrated in monthly FPI data. |
| RISK        | The thesis is vulnerable to a renewed acceleration in inflation. The MPC itself noted renewed pressure from food and core inflation in August, while petrol near ₦1,400/litre, diesel above ₦2,000/litre and Brent at $104.31 feed imported inflation and could lead the CBN to pause. A reversal that takes the 10Y back above the 16.79% September auction rate would weaken a key support for the rerating. A second risk is the naira: the cut narrows the carry cushion, so dollar strength (DXY 100.99) or renewed portfolio exits would erode dollar returns. The indicator to watch is foreign share below 5% with net outflows persisting in the September and October FPI reports, which would suggest reclassification has not produced incremental demand.     |

| Banking            | OW   | M          | Lower rates reduce funding costs but also asset yields, so the NIM impact will vary by bank; Tier 1 names trade at low headline multiples (Zenith 10.14x, Access 11.21x, UBA 11.17x) against a 23.03x sector average.                                     |
| Consumer Goods     | UW   | M          | High valuations (60.22x average across the 7 covered constituents) with weak performance (+2.99% YTD, -10.88% QTD) and limited earnings support; energy and logistics costs are a further pressure for diesel-dependent producers.                        |
| Oil &amp; Gas      | N    | M          | Sector valuations are elevated (52.19x average across 6 constituents; 43.58x like-for-like) after a +133.83% YTD index gain; Brent at $104.31 supports upstream earnings, with Seplat at 75.22x illustrating how much is already priced.                 |
| Industrial Goods   | N    | L          | The index is +84.41% YTD and rose +1.56% WoW on Dangote Cement, whose 1,696.10x P/E is not meaningful; lower rates support construction demand, while the proposed London listing remains a pending catalyst.                                             |
| Insurance          | UW   | M          | The only sector decliner (-0.52% WoW, -8.05% YTD); recapitalisation raises such as African Alliance's approved ₦12bn and Coronation's ₦9.2bn strengthen capital adequacy, though the effect on existing shareholders depends on issue terms and dilution. |
| Telco (MTN/Airtel) | N    | M          | MTN fell -3.03% WoW to ₦863.00 and Airtel Africa is unchanged at ₦6,300.00 on thin trading; Airtel Money's ~$9bn London IPO is a potential catalyst but does not address the stock's liquidity constraint.                                               |

▲ BULLISH FACTORS

- The CBN cut the MPR 350bp to 23.0% and the FGN 10Y yield fell 82bp to 15.97%; with CPI at 15.39%, a ~7.6% real rate leaves room for further reductions if disinflation continues.
- Gross reserves reached a reported $55.25bn on 18 Sep, an 18-year high, and the Q2 current-account surplus reached $7.54bn; USD/NGN - 8.38% YTD lifts the ASI's dollar return to about 76.8%.
- Breadth widened: the advance/decline ratio rose to 1.91x from 1.63x and volume was +44.3% WoW, while FTSE Frontier inclusion, effective 21 Sep, broadens the potential investor base.

▼ BEARISH RISKS

- On a simple earnings-yield comparison, the covered Main Board at 29.68x implies a 3.4% earnings yield versus a 15.97% FGN 10Y yield, with the ASI only 0.77% below its 254,067.42 52wk high.
- Foreign participation remains subdued: foreign share of turnover was 4.89% in August with a ₦9.09bn net outflow, and 10.23% YTD against 21.01% a year earlier.
- Imported inflation risk: Brent is at $104.31, petrol near ₦1,400/litre and diesel above ₦2,000/litre, and the MPC flagged rising food and core inflation, so further rate reductions are not assured.

|-------------|----------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 30 Sep 2026 | Access Holdings H1 2026 audited results deadline   | The results will provide the first Tier 1 read on NIMs and capital after the rate reset.                                                                                                              |
| 2 Oct 2026  | US September nonfarm payrolls                      | A stronger-than-expected print could reinforce market expectations for an October Fed hike (market-implied odds above 66% as of 25 Sep) and strengthen the dollar, weighing on frontier FPI appetite. |
| 13 Oct 2026 | Dangote Refinery IPO offer closes (N2.15tn target) | Allotment and refunds will shape secondary-market liquidity; if listed as indicated in November, the shares would introduce a major new Oil & Gas constituent to the NGX.                             |
